Digital Cover

Simaji Taparia is a marriage consultant in Mumbai. Her name is known in almost every Marwari, Sindhi, Punjabi, Gujarati family in India as well as in other countries of the World.

Finding relationships with unknown people is her passion, which she does within minutes.

She has a unique divine gift to connect with individuals and this gift has been converted into opportunities for eligible boys and girls ready for marriage.

At the young age of 19, Simaji was married to Anupji Taparia, a Mumbai industrial conglomerate who has business interests in hand tools, magnets, textiles, pharmaceuticals and exports.

Born in an industrial and well-known family of Gulbarga, Late Shri Rameshchandra Lahoti has been fond of maintaining and remembering relationships since childhood. The Lahoti and Taparia groups are a vast network of families, so Simaji got a great opportunity to meet family members and learn new relationships.

"Marriage is not just about the coming together of two individuals and family, but also about the fusion of minds where they compliment each other"

Simaji looks at lifestyle, likes-dislikes and personal choices which are a big thing to be considered during match making.

Girls choice of which city she wants to live in post marriage, and how well the prospect boy is groomed - these choices are highly respected.

Similarly boys also have their preferences and usually say "Beauty is not everything and the girls need to have humility, understanding and respect"

Parents in a high-profile family may want to keep it a 'secret' till the candidate is engaged.
